

Spring 2001 Grants

Visually Enriched Health Curriculum ($650)

Suzanne Owens (ZUMS)

This grant was awarded to purchase two life-size human models that accurately and graphically demonstrate the consequences of substance abuse on each body organ.

Read it and Beat it ($1000)

Dawn Barnhouse (PVE).

This grant was awarded to purchase percussion and reading materials for "Read it and Beat it," a storytelling program paired with rhythm instruments.

Listen Up ($2225).

Lynne Plawecki and Renee Foor (Eagle)

This grant was awarded to purchase computer software targeted to students who are identified as having language disorders, learning disabilities or autism.

Economic Murder Mystery ($204)

Mary Grabianowski (ZCHS)

This grant was awarded to purchase several acclaimed novels written by economists to help students see the relevance of economics and its application in everyday life.

Crate Classics ($700)

Kathy Crone (PVE)

This grant was awarded this grant to purchase book collections that will be contained in colorful crates for its "Crate Classics" program.

Classic Words in the Classroom ($100)

Linda Fendley (ZCHS)

This grant was awarded to purchase Michael Clay Thompson's "Classic Words" computer software program that will aid the development of vocabulary.

Intense, Systematic Instruction for All Students ($700)

Rhea Vandenberg (Union)

This grant was awarded for the purchase of a permanent book collection for first grade teacher curriculum.

Early Intervention Literacy Groups ($1000)

Deb Hall, Jeanne Shortz, Dotty Maher, and Terri Ransdell (Eagle)

This grant was awarded to purchase literacy-based materials for Early Intervention Literacy Groups.

Family Arts and Education ($1720)

Dee Adkinson and Maureen Glassberg (Eagle)

This grant was awarded to help fund an evening Family Arts and Education Nights.

